Architectural Services

In most cases, your local Council will need to provide building or consent before you start building. If you would like us to prepare the plans for building consent, please tick the appropriate boxes below. A Complying Development Certificate (CDC) is most commonly required in NSW unless you are in a heritage, coastal or special protection zone. For all other areas we will supply the construction drawings required for the Kit and your local distributor may provide additional information to arrange the necessary plans for approvals processes.

- Preparation of plans for Complying Development Certificate (NSW.)
- Preparation of plans for Building or Development Application (NSW, VIC and QLD)

Supply and installation request (Sydney metropolitan areas only)
